

The Traveling Perfin

Harry Rickard (#1802)

The message and address written on this postcard with a light lead pencil. If it does not show well, the message is, "Hello Angle Face. Have you ever been to this place? /s/ H. Lyons." The writer was alluding to Bridal Veil Falls at Yosemite National Park.

The March 8, 1911, Oakland, CA postmark confirms an early Oakland usage. Latter the same pattern appeared with a San Francisco, CA address.

The reason. Any answer would be conjecture.
